Commencement Week.

Class '05 Presentation-Exercises of Graduating Class- 86 Reunion-Alumni Reunion-Business Meeting.

Class of '05 Presentation. The class of 1905 presented its gift to the Academy Wednesday morning, which comprised three beautiful pictures, "Westminster Abby Exterior," The Poet's Corner," and "Edward the Confessor's Chapel and the Coronation Chair and the Stone of Scone." These were presented to the Academy, together with the class banner inscribed with the motto "Non Sibi," by Lindol M. Scott, who gave the address in an eloquent manner and reflected much credit on himself and the class of '05. As the chapel walls are already well filled with pictures and banners, it is the wish of this class that their pictures be bung in one of the English rooms. They will adorn itself, was one of the most pleasing of the and their leader, Mr. Kingsley, for their taithful work which showed in all the selections and brought forth from the audience well-merited applause. The ever given here, Mr. Bowen's group of songs being one of the gems of the evening. Miss Ogilvie has a pleasing voice whose power and quality was well shown in the solo parts of the sextet and cantata. The sextet from "Lucia de Lammermoor" was finely given, Mrs. Hubert W. Brooks, Messrs. French, Atwood and Gage disproving the statement that "a prophet is not without honor but in his own country." It is to be hoped that the Academy chorus has come to stay as it will add much to the musical element in our town.

Class Day Exercises.

Thursday afternoon was an ideal day for the class day exercises and many friends of the Academy, among whom were a good'y number of graduates of former years, gathered in the Academy yard to listen to the program. The young ladies carried small canes tied with the class colors, and the young gentlemen carried their class canes. Leon B. Kendall presided very gracefully, ansouncing the parts from the platform. One-fourth Off Regular Price. Royal T. Ferry's part on the program was an original idea, and he described each member of the class as a flower, translating the flower's Latin name into the name of the members of the class. The prophesies were well prepared by Miss Maud M. Berry, each one of the class being given excellent suggestions of his future work, and Miss Agnes D. Hulburd completed the list by prophesying Miss Berry's future.

Senior Reception.

The senior class held their reception in the Museum, Thursday evening and many of the former students of the Academy were present. Young's orches-tra furnished music that was enjoyed by all present. Those on the reception committee were the Misses Virginia Horton stepped to theront and in an Perry, Emma Frost, Messrs. Albert Ricker, Leon Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Rob. Principal Comstock wih a gold-headed ert Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. cane and a dress suit

Hawley. A Twentieth Reunion.

The class of '86 of St. Johnsbury Academy held its 20th graduation anniversary reunion at the St. Johnsbury House on the evening of June 14, bringing to-gether 26 members of that class and 12 husbands and wives of members. It was a surprisingly large and jolly class reunion, and one of the best that St. Johnsbury has seen for years. At the class meeting it was voted to raise the class scholarship lund in the Academy to $500, and to hold another reunion five years hence. James A. Leach was elected class president for the coming five years, and Mrs. Addie Robie Sargent, secretary and treasurer. At the dinner which followed the business meeting, George W. Kyburg acted as toastmaster and toasts were responded to by James A. Leach, Hon. Frederick G. Fleetwood, Rev. Thornton B. Penfield, Ph. D., and Mrs. Emily Young O'Brien, M. D. All of the members of the class were then called upon in turn for a word in retrospect. A feature of the dinner was an elaborate birthday cake made in Bostor, bearing Father Time on the top in white, the dates, 1886-1906, and surrounded by 20 candles. On Friday morning the class in-cluding wives, husbands and about a dozen children were photographed on the academy steps. Those present in-cluded the following: George W. Ky-burg, wife and children, New York City; Rev. Thornton B. Penfield, wife and son, New York City; Jason M. Cady, wife and daughter, Miss Alice G. Clark, Welcome B. Eastman, wife and children, Preston E. May, wile and son, Miss Carrie Underwood, Mrs. Emma Bonett Montgomery, Mrs. Addie Robie Sargent and hus-Martin and wile, Denver, Col.; Mrs. Margaret Lawrie Hibbard, Woodsville. N. H ; James A. Leach and wife, Pawlet; Mrs. Bessie Oughtred Abbot, Lennox-ville, P. Q; James H. Macomber and wife, Burlington; Hon. F. G. Fleetwood, sccretary of state, Morrisville; Ira E. Morse and wife, Cambridge; Henry G. Smith, New York City; M. F. Libb, y and wife, Whitefield, N. H.; William A. Woods, Both N. H.; M. P. Libb, Y. H. W. Both N. H. W. S. Libb, Y. H. W. W. S. Libb, Y. L Bath, N. H.; Mrs. Emily Young O'Brien, M. D., Boston; Carl D. French, Barton Landing; Mrs. Virginia May Weston and daughter, Burlington; Mrs. Mary Elkins Gardyne, Montgomery; Mrs. Helen Brooks Jenekes, Sherbrooke, P. Q; E. D. Raymond and wife, Fair Haven, Letters and telegrams of regret and greetings were read from about 30 absent members of '86 and a fine letter from Prot. Charles E. Putney, Principal of the Academy when '86 was graduated, who was invited to be the guest of the class, but unable to be present.

Alumni Dance.

The alumni dance was held in Pythian hall Thursday evening and as usual was well attended. Mrs. Brock's orchestra of five pieces furnished good music and Atwood served trappe.

Graduating Exercises. The graduating exercises of the Academy took place Friday morning, and the hall was well filled with an interested Italy, Spain and Sweden will be found and appreciative audience. The stage was tastily decorated by the class of '07 Altogether it should certainly prove a with potted palms, and the class motto most brilliant, attractive and instructive made up in the class colors of blue and spectacle, white was hung over the stage. The Church Notes. faculty and trustees were seated on the stage, also Rev. J. M. Frost, who of-fered prayer at the opening exercises. Robert W. Simonds presented the diplomas to the graduating class of the commercial department, telling them it was not their aim to see how many dollars they could earn, but to serve the world in the best and noblest way. Every business man wants capable help. The question is, "Are you doing your work to the best of your ability?" Young's orchestra furnished music during the intermission and Mrs. Edward A. Kingsley sang a solo in a charming manner which was much enjoyed by ail. At the close of the exercises the diplomas were presented by Principal D. Y. Comstock, who in his instructive address, said that there was great responsibility depending on the class. The law of commencement is the law of opening possibil-ities and "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with all thy might." Among other quotations was the one on "Duty. I slept and freamed that life was > bury friends. Alumni Banion. The festivities of theweek closed Fri-day night with the alumi reunion in the Academy Hall. This was largely attended by the alumni an was a notable social success. The gusts were received by Prot. and Mrs. Henr Fairbanks, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Makinnon, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Stone nd Miss Haskell and there were several jundred in attendance. Excellent muc was furnished through the evening by he Girls' Chorus and the Boys' Glee Clut At the business meeting of the alumni ssociation, Rev. Edward T. Fairbank presided and Joseph Fairbanks was lected president for the ensuing year.

At a given signal th audience were the citizens of St. Johnsoury. Mr. Hor-ton spoke of the value Mr. Comstock had been to the town as well as the school and said he wanted him to realize that his services had been appreciated.

Mr. Comstock replied is the same good humor and thanked the people heartily for their gift and the spirit which prompt-

The cross country match proved very interesting and gave one a chance Saturday, to play over a long course of 18 holes, each hole being laid especially for the day, and no two alike. The rounds were most exciting and proved of great value to the team player, where distance is the principal point to be gained, and as several of the games away from home will be played on long courses it was good practice for all, Following is the score for the 18 holes:

Turner, C. H., 106. Dempsey, C. H., 108. Bailey, G. A., 109. Silsby, E. A., 110. Borland, Hugh, 112. Taft, E. M., 114.

Brooks, F. H., 116. Several challenge matches were being finished, which prevented some of the players from taking part in the match. Next Saturday the strong Barre golf team of Barre will play Old Pine at St. Johnsbury, and a good match is assured as the team contains some of the best players in the state, and last year gave the Old Pine a very interesting match.

Past and Present Pageantry.

To the world at large the appearance of its rulers and great men-how they look and what they wear-is of more interest than what they have accomplished. In this fact lies much of the interest invoked by the heroic and historic pageant, "The Tribunal of Nations," which forms one of the big novel attractions of The Frank A Pobnovel attractions of The Frank A. Robbins All New Great Festure Shows, whose great menagerie, circus and hip-podrome tents will be pitched here on Wednesday, June 27.

This pageant spectacle comprises a number of stupendous and sumptuous floats, drawn by grand teams of regally caparisoned blue ribbon thoroughbreds. On these floats, correctly costumed and attended-even to the smallest as well the most princely detail of verisimilitude -will appear living representatives of the most famous imperial beroes of the past, and the leading rulers of the present day. In this distinguished assemblage will be included Frederick the Great of Prussia, as shown in the heroic bronze statue of him presented to the United States of America by descend ant, Emperor William, and recently placed on the esplanade of the new war college at Washington. Another conspicuous living reproduction will be that of Napoleon, as he appeared when at the zenith of his power and fame. Inlius Cresar in the classic costume of a Roman dictator two thousand years ago, the Queen of the Netherlands, the Emperor of Austria, and the kings of

The Ladies' Circle of the Church of the Messiah will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Henry Hudson, Caledonia street. The supper will take the form of a box party and those interested are requested to come and bring their suppers.

The Northern Association of Universalists will be held in Concord June 28 and 29. It is expected that this will be a large and interesting meeting.

The Rector's Aid society of St. Andrew's church will meet with Mrs. W. S. Boynton, Thursday afternoon.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Odd Fellows block. Sunday morning service, 10.45. Subject "God. "Children's Sun-day school will follow the morn-ing service. Wednesday evening meeting at 7.30. The reading room is open-daily except Sunday from 2.30 to 5 p. m. Christian Science literature always on hand.

Next Sunday will be observed at the Church of the Messiah as Children's Day. There will be special features to the service with baptism of children and a sermon to children by the pastor.

Last Sunday was observed as organ Sunday at the Episcopal church and special music was rendered at both services. In the morning the congregation was favored with a solo by Mrs. F. S. Tinkham of Newport, and at the vesper service Prot. Krumpeln gave a few selections on the organ, and the special soloist was Mrs. John H. Moore. The organ loft was prettily decorated with thorn apple.

Miss Edith M. Balch will meet the pastors and Sunday school workers of St. Johnsbury, in the North church chapel, Sunday, 3.45 p. m., to plan for Home Department work.

"The Sure Thing" will be the subject of the evening lecture at Grace Methodist church next Sunday. This will be the closing address of the season as the union services commence July 1. The orchestra will assist in making this service especially interesting. The morning sermon will be upon, "The Pentecostal Life."

Children's Day was observed at the South church last Sunday, and the exercises were very successfully given by the children, in the presence of a large congregation, in spite of the rain. The church was prettily decorated with as long as you live. To these remarks | buttercups and ferns, and in the morning a double quartet rendered very excellent musical selections.

St. Andrew's church. Second Sunday tenderest recollections of the St. Johnsafter Trinity, June 24. Celebration of Holy Communion at 8

> Morning prayer at 10.30 a. m. Vespers at 7 p. m. The Rector will preach at both services.

There will be no service this evening. Adjutant Rowe of the Salvation Army will address the Bible class of the scale factory Thursday noon. Subject, "From Darkness to Light."
